PREFACE
to
SECOND EDITION

The first (1967) edition of The TIRRELL-TIRRILL-TERRILL-TYRRELL BOOK filled a void in the list of histories and genealogies of early American families. It brought together in one volume all facts known about our founder ancestor, WILLIAM THERRILL, and his descendants through the several branches of the family established by his only sons, William and Gideon.

As such it was a good book. But it contained errors of both a typographical and genealogical nature. Some errors were expected. But the number of such errors were too many for the peace of mind of your author. Hence this SECOND EDITION.

The original manuscript has been carefully rechecked for these errors. Genealogical data has been rechecked against original sources, where readily available; otherwise against the early notes taken by your author. A new manuscript has been prepared from the corrected original. This SECOND EDITION should be reasonably free from errors.

Meanwhile, during the lapse of time between the first and this second edition, new data has been found concerning our first WILLIAM and his wife, Rebecca. Also additional and revised material has been found concerning other members of the family. And a few new arrivals have been reported. All of this has been incorporated into this new edition. To accomplish this without greatly increasing the number of pages in the book, one additional line has been placed on each page of the genealogical section, and the size of type has been reduced in the Revolutionary War Records section. The index has been completely reworked, and consequently enlarged.

Because of the errors in the first edition, your author herewith offers to exchange copies of that edition for copies of this new edition, insofar as copies remain available. This exchange will be made without cost to the subscriber other than postal charges for returning the original edition and postal charges for mailing the new book. This exchange offer results in considerable expense to your author, especially since receipts from the sale of the first edition have not yet covered all costs involved in producing that edition, to which will now be added the cost of publishing this second edition. No further editions are contemplated.

Robert Wilson Tirrell.

FOREWORD

The Town of Weymouth is the second oldest in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. It was first settled in the year 1622 by the unsuccesful attempt of Thomas Weston, a London Merchant, to establish a fishing station on the shore of Wessagusset, as the place was then known. In 1623, just three years after the settling of old "Plimouth Plantation" the first successful colony was established at this location.

Weymouth lies on Massachusetts Bay about 25 miles north of Plymouth, and about 12 miles south of Boston, following major highways. In spite of being the second oldest town in the Commonwealth, it was and still is one of the smaller towns, in area, in the State. Over the period of its existance, its bounds have neither increased or decreased. It was originally part of the Massachusetts Bay Colony rather than part of the Plymouth Colony. Hence its religious background is slightly different than that of Plymouth.

Weymouth is bounded on the South by the Towns of Abington and Rockland, both originally Old Abington, and originally part of Old Bridgewater in Plymouth Colony; on the East by Hingham; on the West by the City of Quincy, and Towns of Braintree and Holbrook, all three of which were cut out of Old Braintree, an early settlement in the Massachusetts Bay Colony.

The average elevation of Weymouth is about 125 feet, rising from sea level at the north to about 170 feet in the South, with a few hills rising to a maximum elevation of 190-200 feet. Weymouth has two major sized ponds, Great Pond in the South, and Whitman's Pond in the central part of the town. It's major roads follow the old Indian trails leading from the southern part of the State to the seashore.

In my younger days, Weymouth had three things;- it was the ancestral homeland of all Tirrells; it's sons fathered the shoe industry of America; and it was the home of both my paternal and maternal grandparents - and what youth doesn't like to visit his grandparents.

I am not a native of Weymouth, but was born in the City of Brockton which is located about 10 miles distant from Weymouth. Here I spent my youth, married and entered the business world, but soon left thereafter for "greener pastures". My father, Wilson Tirrell III, was born in the South Precinct of Weymouth. And so was his father, Wilson Tirrell Jr.; and his grandfather, Wilson Tirrell - the first of the line of Wilsons; and so was every other Tirrell ancestor way back to the time that Gideon, younger son of our founder ancestor, WILLIAM THERRILL, purchased his first land in 1686.

To me, as a youth, the names Weymouth and Tirrell were synomyous. One could not exist without the other. Everyone in Weymouth was a Tirrell, or if not so named, was somehow related to the Tirrells - which was the same as being a Tirrell. There was the old Tirrell Grist Mill, built in 1693, near Whitman's Pond; the old shoe factory of the first Wilson Tirrell, built in 1808 on Front Street, and now destroyed to make room for Super-highway No. 128; the old Albert Tirrell mansion, now replaced by the South Shore Hospital; and other Tirrell landmarks too numerous to mention. The several cemeteries of Weymouth are full of Tirrells, long since departed, and the grave of Gideon Tirrell Jr. located at a place called "The Rocks" or "Martin's Cemetery" just off Park Ave., in South Weymouth, has long since been obliterated. My father delighted in pointing out all these Tirrell landmarks whenever we journeyed from Brockton to Weymouth.

Although my impression was that the Tirrells were the only family in Weymouth, The History of Weymouth does show that many other families did live there - some longer than the Tirrells. But it was our town. Even reading the little Tirrell Genealogy, published in 1851 by Benjamin Tirrell, one gathers that the family was at one time 10% of the voting population, and collectively paid the greatest amount of tax into the town's treasury. Our family provided town officers, representatives to the Massachusetts General Court, and a Congressman to Washington. Tirrell sons have answered the call of Colonial Wars, the Revolution, Civil War, World War I, World War II, and are now serving their country in the current unrest in the Far East. All these things my father told me. He omitted the tragedies, as parents are wont to do, leaving these to be discovered during the course of Genealogical research.

I became interested in Ancestry and Genealogy in 1926, after the death of a maternal great-uncle. He lived in Cohasset, Mass., a town near Weymouth, in a house built in 1725. Over his fireplace there hung a PRATT family Coat of Arms, a painting of some ancient vintage. I became interested in the origin of this Coat of Arms, and soon traced it to the painter, James Cole, one of those itinerant painters, owner of a book on Heraldry, who applied a good brush to a prepainted background, and for a fee produced a Coat of Arms belonging to some ancient person. No lineal relationship between the original patentee of the Arms and the person for whom it was painted was known to exist, but a desire was satisfied. The same condition exists today, except the painter comes by mail instead of in person.

During my early business years I traced the ancestry of my children on both paternal and maternal lines. This was comparatively easy - we were strictly a New England Family, mostly based in Plymouth and Norfolk Counties of Massachusetts. Also during those early years I did a considerable amount of travelling, often being away from home for an extended period of time. Ancestor searching occupied many evenings and weekends when "holed down" in an hotel - after all one can not go to the movie or theater every night. And the concentration required for this type of research was found to be quite relaxing.

But while I found publications to cover families of most of my ancestral lines, except for the little Tirrell Genealogy, and later, after it was published, The History of Weymouth, no publication could be found covering our TIRRELL family. I knew that there was a William Tirrell, older brother of my Gideon, who had first settled in Weymouth but later moved to the adjoining town of Abington, but I had no idea of the extent and number of his descendants. While the Weymouth Tirrells "stayed put" and today many Tirrells are still to be found in Weymouth, the Abington Tirrells, William's descendants, have scattered to the four winds, until today only a handful of Tirrells remain in the three towns which were cut out of Old Abington.

In November 1963, shortly after my retirement from a very active career as a Professional Engineer, I decided to see how far I could go in bringing the records of our Tirrell family up to date. Being retired I could and have devoted much of my time to this project.

The work started by making a vertical chart of all the Weymouth Tirrells as recorded in the old Tirrell Genealogy and The History of Weymouth. Mapped out on a sheet of white shelving paper, this chart soon became 10 feet in length. The vertical arrangement permitted easy insertions of new data as it was found by cutting and pasting in a new section of the shelving paper. It was not long, after consulting every reference which might contain a Tirrell name, before the chart extended to over 120 feet in length, and had to be given up because of its cumbersome nature. By this time I had accumulated individual records on separate pages in a loose-leaf file.

The work could not have been accomplished without the help of every living Tirrell. Using the Telephone Directories as guides, letters were sent to most of the listed Tirrells, but not to all if it appeared that one member of the family living in a locality might answer for all. Letters were also sent to many Town Clerks. In all, over 1500 letters were sent out in a period of 36 months. This includes several letters sent to the same individual, when such was necessary to clear up dates and other desired facts. The response to these letters was terrific - about 80% - even if occasionally I did have to nudge a few of my correspondents.

From this correspondence, I found that many other members of our family had compiled records of their own immediate and collateral family. These loyal members of the family have shared their research with me.

Besides thanking all those who responded to my letters, I especially want to thank Mrs. Gertrude (Tirrell) Bates of Cohasset, Mass.; Mrs. Harry Ladd of Canaan, Vt.; Mrs. S. Leota (Tyrrell) Mutz of Lincoln. Neb.; Mrs. Clyde E. Tyrrell of Stockton, Ill.; Mrs. Esther (Tirrell) Cook of Hanover, Mass.; Mrs. Ella (Alcott) Guancione of Waterbury, Conn.; all of whom have generously given me their records; and Mrs. Franklin C. Thompson of Concord, N.H.; Mrs Robert N. Cleveland of Montpelier, Vt.; Mrs L.K. Dodge of Chichester, N.H.; Mr. William Perry Johnson of Raleigh, N.C.; and Miss Ruth E. Thomas of Belmont, Mass.; all professional genealogists who have researched special areas for me. I cannot omit my good friends, Mr. Richard Elwell of Watertown, Mass.; Mr. H. Raymond Morse of Whitman, Mass.; and Mr. Raymond Winslow, Jr. of Hertford, N.C.; none of whom I have met personally, and none of whom is directly related to the Tirrell family, but who have searched locally for me on frequent requests - I hope to be able to return the compliment.

I also want to thank the many Town Clerks of Massachusetts, and elsewhere, who have replied to my inquiries, sometimes with, but often without fee. I especially want to thank Mr. Harry Christensen, Town Clerk of Weymouth, Mass., who further arranged for one of his assistants, Mrs. Martha Gaudreau, to copy all current Weymouth Vital Records, within the limits permitted by State laws.

That omissions and mistakes will be found in this Book is a foregone conclusion. For all mistakes, I apologize. I hope that they may not be too serious, but in genealogy all mistakes are serious. I hope that readers of this work will bring every mistake to my attention. For omissions, I again apologize, if such omission is due to neglect in my research. But for all omissions caused by the 20% who ignored my letter requests, I make no apology.

Hopefully our family will continue to grow and prosper. The records of new generations will be added to those of the past. While there are some events which the family could have done without, and what family does not have something hidden in the closet, it has been a family of gentle folk, whose biggest fame is to avoid getting their name into Big Print.

IT'S nice to come from gentle folk
Who wouldn't stoop to brawl,
Who never took a lusty poke
At anyone at all,

Who never raised a raucous shout
At any country inn
Or calmed an ugly fellow lout
With a belaying pin,

Who never shot a revenuer
Hunting for the still,
Who never rustled cattle, who're
Pleased with uncle's will,

Who lived their lives out as they ought,
With no uncouth distractions,
And shunned like leprosy
the thought
Of taking legal actions.

It's nice to come from gentle folk
Who've never known disgrace—
But oh, though scandal is no joke,
It's easier to trace!

INTRODUCTION

This work is the History and Genealogy of the TIRRELL FAMILY, descendants of WILLIAM THERRILL whose name first appears on page 49 of Vol. 9 of the Report of the Boston (Mass.) Record Commissioners, as follows:

> "William Therrell and Rebecca Simpkins daughter of Capt. Nicholas Simpkins were married 29th, 11 Mo. (1654) by Richard Bellingham, Governor".

This work includes all known descendants of WILLIAM THERRILL, regardless of the spelling of our family name, which may have been or currently is used by his descendants.

At the time our WILLIAM was in Boston, or elsewhere, there were others carrying our family name in Boston and in other colonies. Just how these are related to our WILLIAM THERRILL is not known, but there is little doubt that all are descended from some common ancestor who may have lived in England, or if not there, in France.

This work does not cover the genealogy of these other families, but for general interest, the names of some of these other early colonists are listed herein:

1. Daniel Turrell; in Boston circa 1640; came from Instow, Devonshire - according to "Savage" and "Banks".

2. John Turrell; in Boston circa 1640; also came from Instow, Devonshire - according to a Power of Attorney dated 1711, wherein John Turrell of Instow, eldest son and heir of Samuel Turrell, deceased, only son of John Turrell, late of Boston; and William Turrell of New England, sell land situated at corner of Cross and Hanover Streets in Boston. Many have assumed that the William Turrell named in this document is identical with our ancestor, WILLIAM THERRILL, but since our William died in 1682, it does not seem possible that he could be the man mentioned in the 1711 document. John and William Turrell were undoubtedly related to Daniel Turrell of Boston. Instow records have been searched and no evidence has been found relating to these men, although the Turrell name is found in the Churchyard at Instow.

3. Roger Terrill; came to America from Nanzing, Essex, England on the ship "Lion", arriving in Boston on 14 Sep 1632. After tarrying awhile in Boston and nearby Roxbury, he moved to Connecticut with the migration that founded New Haven; later moving again over a religious dispute and founded a colony at Milford (Conn.) where he became progenitor of a large family. A genealogy of this family was in preparation by Mrs. Margaret Tyrrell Jerome of Dexter, Mich. at the time of her untimely death. The work was being continued by her daughter, Mrs. Helen Tyrrell Butler of the same address, until her death in January 1966.

Others are now continuing the work.

4. Timothy Terrell; son of Timothy and Dorothy (Collard) Terrell was baptized at All Hallows, London, England on 5 Dec 1656; came to America as an orphan in 1672; married Elizabeth Foster and settled in New Kent, Virginia. A partial history of this family has been published under title "A Genealogy Line of Tyrrell, Terrell and Terrill Family of Virginia and Texas" by Roy Lee Terrell.

5. William Terrell and Richmond Terrell, brothers; settled in St. Paul's Parish, Hanover County, Virginia. A partial history of this family has been published under the title "Genealogical Notes on the Tyrrell-Terrell Family of Virginia" in two editions, 1907 & 1909, by Edwin H. Terrell.

There were still other Tirrells of this and later periods, but the above few are the ones about whom some history has been written.

Our family of "TIREL" dates back to at least 950 A.D. As far as is currently known, the first to carry the name was one Ralf (Raoul) de Tirel, third of five sons of Gautier (Walter) I of Valois, Vexin and Amiens in France. His wife, Adele (Adelaide), is believed to be daughter of Folques I, Count of Anjou.

This Ralf de Tirel married a daughter of the Seigneur de Guernanville, by whom he had two sons; Hilduin, Sire de Tirel and Folques de Tirel.

Folques (Fulke) de Tirel succeeded to the titles of Seigneur and Dean of Evreaux. He married Lady Orielda, a daughter of Richard I, 3rd Duke of Normandy. They had ten children.

Gautier (Walter) I de Tirel, the youngest son of Folques and Orielda, accompanied his relative, William the Conqueror, to England in 1066. From this Walter, all Tirels (of all spellings) in England and Ireland are presumed to descend. The name is now extinct in France, but still continues in England, Ireland and America.

Several explanations have been given as to the origin of our "Tirel" name. One is that it originated from old French spelling of "Terre" meaning "land" or "high ground". The original Tirel estates were in the Vexin (France) on High ground at a place now known as "Triel -sur Seine" a simple reversal of letters. Triel-sur-Seine is situated near the conflux of the Oise and Seine Rivers, very near Pointoise.

A second explanation of the origin of the name is that it derives from the French verb "Tirer" meaning "to draw" as in drawing or pulling a bowstring, signifying that the family was famous for its archers. One commentator says that while William Tell and Robin Hood were more or less mythical characters, our Walt Tyrrell actually lived and was a famous archer. He is blamed for the death of King William (Rufus) II of England, who was killed by an arrow while he and Walter Tyrrell were stag hunting in the Forest of Avon. This story is told in Walter Scott's "Ivanhoe" and in Costain's "The Conqueror". A more complete account of this incident is told in "A Genealogical History of the Tyrrells" (Irish house) by Joseph Henry Tyrrell, and in "Maison de Tyrel" by M. D'Arcy, which gives the French version of the event.

The name of TIRELL is inscribed in the Battle Abbey, erected by William the Conqueror on the battlefield at Hastings, to honor those knights who accompanied him on his conquest against England.

The name "Waltern Tirelde" is found in the Doomsday Book, that record of land holdings compiled by William the Conqueror, about 1070, showing the amount of land held by the families of England at that time for purposes of taxation. This record, still preserved by the English Government, shows that the Tirelde were among the largest land owners at that time. They retained possession of their lands for at least 700 years, and for the first 600 years each successive head of the house enjoyed the honor of knighthood.

Besides extensive land holdings in England, the family also enjoyed large estates in Ireland, where Hugh, son of Walter, was the first of our name in that country. Some of the estates still exist. In the "History of Westmeath, Ireland" Hugh Tyrrell is called "the greatest fighter Ireland ever had since Brian Boru".

The name "Tirel" is among the list of those who took part in the first, second and third Crusades. Sir Walter I, in the first Crusade was present at the Seige of Jerusalem in 1096; Sir Hugh, his son, was in the second Crusade in 1146; and Hugh, son of Sir Hugh, was in the third Crusade in 1190.

Our name has been and still is spelled in various ways. One English historian has noted that the basic spelling is T R L, to which any vowel such as a-e-i-o-u and y can be inserted between the T and R, and between the R and L to give various spellings. In addition, the letters R and L can be doubled up or left as single letters to give a wider assortment in the spelling. We must concur with this explanation. In Europe and the British Isles, the following spellings have been found:

de Tirel (French)
de Tyrel (French)
Thirel (French)
Tirelde (Norman English)
Tyrrell (English and Irish)
Tirrelli (Italian)
Trail (Scotch)

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has recorded the military records of her sons throughout the American Revolution in seventeen volumes entitled "Soldiers and Sailors of the American Revolution". In this work, our name has been listed under twenty-three different spellings; the record of the same man often under more than one spelling. The Massachusetts Revolutionary War Records of our Tirrells (of all spellings) are included in a later chapter of this book.

The difference in spelling shows that years ago the average individual was not sufficiently well educated to be able to read or write. For the few documents that were written, it was common practice to have others, better educated, do the writing. In many of these documents, where there is a signature, as in Wills, Deeds, etc., it is often noticed that the spelling in the text varies from the spelling of the signature, and often several spellings were used in the whole document, as is the case in the Will of our WILLIAM THERRILL. It was not until after the Revolution that uniform spelling came into being, and then one spelling was passed down from generation to generation.

While other spellings are occasionally used by our immediate family today, in general, the following are in use: TIRRILL, used by the descendants of William (11) who first settled in Weymouth, and later in Abington, Mass.; TIRRELL, used by the descendants of Gideon (12) who settled and remained in Weymouth, Mass.; TYRRELL and TERRILL adopted by some of the descendants of William (11) after they migrated from Abington, Mass. While the early records show the occasional use of TURRELL, that spelling has disappeared entirely from our family; it is still used by unrelated lines.

Because of these differences in spelling, it has been very difficult to trace our family. This is further complicated, when it is remembered that the descendants of Daniel Turrell, Roger Terrill, Timothy, William and Richmond Terrell, as well as other branches of the family are to be found in every State in the Union and in Canada.

Sooner or later every person interested in his genealogical background seeks information about a Coat-of-Arms to which he has rightful use. In Heraldry, Arms, Crests and Mottoes are assigned to specific families for valor and honor. Some of these heraldic devices are issued for use of one generation only. More often the use of Arms descends from generation to generation, usually to the oldest son. This was especially true in England. When a younger son was also entitled to use of Arms, the form of the Arms was usually retained, but the tincture (color) was altered, or some other minor change made to indicate that the Arms did not belong to the main line of the family.

The earliest armorial device recorded for the TIREL family is probably that assumed by Ralf de Tirel, ca. 970 A.D. which was later used by his older son, Hilduin. This was a shield "Vair", being a protective shield such as used in battle, covered with a red dyed fur. This was also the Arms of Walter I de Tirrel, who accompanied William the Conqueror to England, and used by Walter's son, Hugh, and his grandson, Hugh.

But Hugh II, being present at the Seige of Jerusalem in 1096, changed his Arms to those of the town of Poix in France, to distinguish himself from his kinsman, the Sire de Tirel, who was also at Jerusalem and was carrying the "Vair" Arms. The "Poix" Arms are "Gules; a bend argent, between six cross crosslets fitché at the foot, or; three and three".

Since this date several Arms have been issued to different branches of the family, those in England differing greatly from those in Ireland. The Arms assigned to the English house of Tyrrell of Essex, Bucks etc. is described as "Argent; two chevronels azure, within a bordure engrailed gules". This is the Arms usually assumed by the American branch of the family seeking this distinction, and is the one shown as the frontispiece of this book.

The Crest for this English family is "A Peacock's tail issuing from the mouth of a Boar's head, couped, erect", and the Motto for this same branch of the family is "Sans Dieu Rien" (Nothing without God).

No one can deny Americans the right to assume Arms, but the accepted practice is to use only those Arms which their founder ancestor actually brought to America. In our case, we know of no armorial devices which truly belonged to our founder ancestor, WILLIAM THERRILL. Let's face it. The fact that he had a trade would indicate that he was from a Cadet branch of the family rather than from the Landed Gentry, which is one reason his origin is so difficult to trace.

ARRANGEMENT and SPELLING

The arrangement of this book follows the usual pattern for genealogies, wherein one chapter is devoted to each generation. For the larger and longer generations, two or even more chapters may be used, for the convenience of your author in making corrections and last minute additions before publication.

Each individual is identified by a number. The numbering pattern used is as follows:

William (1)
Rebecca (1A)
William (11)
William (111)
Samuel (112)
Samuel (112-1)
Miriam (112-A)
Etc.

Our founder ancestor, WILLIAM THERRILL, is (1); his two sons are numbered (11) and (12); and his two daughters, (1A) and (1B). The sons of (11) are numbered (111), (112), (113) etc. and the daughters, (11A) (11B), and (11C) etc., in each case adding a digit to the parent's number for sons, and a letter, for daughters. This method of numbering permits additions and insertions at any time without disturbing numbers already assigned. The method also permits future generation to assign numbers to themselves and to their children. On only one occasion have there been more than 9 sons in the family, and in this case the 10th son was shown as (10) within the bracket.

The descent from Tirrell daughters, whose children carry the family name of their father, is carried only through the birth record of each child. The record of the spouse is complete, where possible, identifying him with his parents, so that those interested may tie to the ancestral tree of his family.

The descent from adopted children has been treated the same as for natural children.

Except for the current generation of children, now living, and who are still minors, and for most adults over age of maturity, but not yet married, a separate paragraph is provided to record genealogical facts. Only occasional biographical facts have been recorded.

It will be noted that open spaces are left for every item of genealogical record that has not been found. It is hoped that those who search this book may be able to complete some of the missing data, and that the author will be advised of the record.

It has been the intent of your author to spell the family name in the manner that the individual himself spelled it. Errors will occur and occasionally the spelling may be in one or the other forms. Just when or why the spelling changed from one form to another is not known. Sometimes more than one spelling has been associated with an individual, and often more than one spelling is found in Wills, Deeds and similar documents. In this case it is necessary to assume which spelling is the correct one to use. Usually the spelling of the parent is assumed, otherwise the spelling of the children. Hence it can be seen that no attempt has been made to make all members of our family conform to one spelling-- maybe such would be useful for future generations, if we did - but after all, who is to say which spelling is correct. If we knew the origin and ancestry of our founder, WILLIAM THERRILL, that question might be answered.

WILLIAM THERRILL

Normally, the biographical sketch of our founder ancestor, WILLIAM THERRILL, would begin with the name of his parents and the date and place of his birth, and would conclude with the date and place of his death.

In spite of extensive (and expensive) research, nothing has been found, to date, concerning the origin of our WILLIAM. Where he was born, the names of his parents, why he used the odd spelling of our family name, and other facts of his early life must be left to the continuing searches of future historians of our family.

It can be assumed that WILLIAM was of English origin, especially since his adult life was spent in English settlements of the New World.

From more than one source, during the compilation of this genealogy, have come stories that WILLIAM was one of three brothers, two of whom came to America, and one who remained, or was retained, in England. None of these sources could supply any further data which would authenticate the story. But since the story persists, it must be assumed that there is some truth in it; for as the old saw goes, "where there is smoke, there is fire". Eventually the truth will be found - we hope!

Cyrus Nash, born in Abington, Mass. in 1780, and died there in 1850, was critically injured as a youth and unable to perform any of the usual labors of a healthy man. Instead, he devoted his energy, from 1804 to 1848, recording in several volumes of Diaries, the events, historical and genealogical, which occured in his native Abington. In his Diaries, recently discovered and currently being transcribed by the Historical Society of Old Abington, are two separate references to the possible origin of our family, as follows:

> " Tirrell - John Tirrell, Old Miller, Town Clerk 28 years brothers Eben^{r}, Nath^{l} --- their father said to come from England, Falmouth, and Mr. Humphrey and Mr. Dyer came with him to America --- probably gr.f. instead of f." (GIII:87-8)

and

> "Tirrell - there were more of the same family who resided in Weymouth, where the before mentioned migrated from, said Elihu Tirrell, that he heard his grandfather John Tirrell of Weymouth say (the old Miller, grandfather of the present John Tirrell, who was son of John Tirrell & the latter was son of the old Miller - the Town Clerk, in that place for the space of 28 yrs) say that there were three brothers of them. His name was John and owned the Tirrell Grist Mill so called, now Ezra Reed's. Another, Nathaniel, father of the late Nathaniel Tirrell of this town (Abington) lived below on down in town. The father said he came from Falmouth, England and Mr Humphrey and Mr > Dyer came with him to America. I think there must be a mistake - probably that the father of John, Ebenezer and Nathaniel was a brother of William, Thomas and Samuel Tirrells of this town (Abington). and their father probably came from England as before mentioned, and not the father of John, Ebenezer and Nathaniel". (GIV 18:19.)

Evidently Cyrus Nash still missed a generation or two, but he did sense that something was wrong.

It is presumed that the Mr. Humphrey referred to is Jonas Humphrey, who with his family were early settlers of Weymouth. Jonas Humphrey came to America from Wendover in Buckinghamshire, England.

It is also presumed that the Mr. Dyer referred to is Thomas Dyer, another early settler in Weymouth; or he could have been William Dyer who settled in Sheepscott, Me. and whose grandson, William, became an early settler of Weymouth. Just where the Dyers came from is not too well established.

Accepting the accounts of Cyrus Nash, we can at least assume that our WILLIAM THERRILL and Messers Humphrey and Dyer sailed for America from the seaport of Falmouth, in Cornwall, England. Whether he originated from this seaport is subject to further investigation.

In 1851, Benjamin Tirrell of Weymouth, Mass. published his "Tirrell Family" which covers the early genealogy of the Tirrells who lived in Weymouth, but completely ignored the Tirrells who lived in the adjoining town of Abington, Mass.

Benjamin Tirrell also sought information concerning the origin of our first WILLIAM THERRILL and like Cyrus Nash turned to the descendants of John Tirrell, the old Miller and Town Clerk. To quote Benjamin Tirrell:

> "At this late date (1851) in the absence of records, it is impossible to learn the exact time at which our ancestor arrived in this country. John Tirrell, who was for many years Town Clerk of Weymouth, had in his possession a manuscript, which was written by his grandfather, Gideon. It recorded the Town and County in England from whence he came. That paper seems at this time to be irrecoverably lost. Although it is but a few years since the work is missing. "as nearly as can be ascertained from present information the town is Thorne in Yorkshire".

There is one Town of Thorne in Yorkshire, but to date no further reference has been found to indicate that our William may have come from there. On the other hand, one of the ancestral homes of the Tirrells is Thornton Hall, situated in Buckinghamshire, not too distant from Wendover and Lees. If Thornton Hall were meant, this would tend to confirm Cyrus Nash's reference to Messers Humphrey and Dyer. Further search is definitely needed.

Certainly our WILLIAM THERRILL was not William Turrell who in 1711 together with John Turrell of Instow, Devonshire, England, gave title to land in Boston. In 1711, our WILLIAM THERRILL was already deceased. The deed could have been signed by William (11), eldest son of WILLIAM THERRILL as "one other son" but in 1711 he was living in Abington, Mass. So far no evidence has been found to show that the William who signed that Boston deed is of the same family as our WILLIAM THERRILL, other than the fact that the same given names seem to be used in both families. Turrells are buried in the graveyard of The Parish Church of St John (Baptist) in Instow, but none of the names can be identified with our family, and the Parish Register does not go back to 1711, it having been lost or destroyed for that period. Neither do the records of Instow give sufficient data to identify that Daniel Turrell of Boston originated from that town, although this seems to be an accepted fact.

Heretofore, the few facts known about our WILLIAM THERRILL are those found in such works as

a) Genealogical Dictionary of First Settlers of New England: by James Savage; 1860-62
b) Report of Boston Record Commissioners; Vol. 9.
c) Tirrell Family; by Benjamin Tirrell; 1851.
d) History of Weymouth, Mass.; by Joy and Chamberlain; 1923.

Today, as the result of considerable research, somewhat more is known about William, especially that period of his life from the time of his marriage in Boston, New England in 1654, to the time of his death at Little River, Old Albemarle County, Carolina, in 1682.

As previously stated, the first recorded knowledge of our WILLIAM THERRILL is that of his marriage in Boston:

> "William Therrell and Rebecca Simpkins, dau. of Capt. Nicholas Simpkins were married 29th 11 mo. (1654) by Richard Bellingham, Governor.

It will be noted that William was married by the Governor of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, and not by a Minister of the Gospel. Civil marriages were the custom at this time. The first marriage celebrated with Prayer Book and Ring did not occur in Boston until 1686.

It is not known to which religious body, if any, William was associated at the time of his marriage. A search of early Church records in Boston has failed to show either admission or dismission from any of the churches there, "and everyone had to attend church". It is possible he did not actually live in Boston, although all his children were recorded as having been born there.

William's father-in-law, Capt. Nicholas Simpkins, a draper and tailor by trade, was the first commander of Castle Island Fort in Boston Harbor, in the year 1634. He occupied this post for one year only. After retiring from command of the fort he lived successively in Yarmouth, Barnstable, Scituate and then returned to Boston in 1650 where he lived until his death about 1656. According to "Topographical Dictionary" by C.E. Banks, Capt. Simpkins came to America from Burcoat, Northamptonshire, England. His widow, Isabel, died in Boston in Sep. 1668. WILLIAM THERRILL by his Will, was a Merchant-Taylor. Could he have been apprenticed to Capt. Simpkins to learn tailoring, and upon completion of his time (usually at age 21) married the daughter of his Master? This was often the case. We can only ask this question - we do not have the answer.

William and Rebecca (Simpkins) Therrill had four children as recorded in Volume 9 of the Report of the Boston Record Commissioners and as shown in the tabulation on the next page.

51	1655	Rebecca	of William and Rebecca Turell - born 26th Dec.
64	1658	William	of William and Rebecca Thorull - born March 16.
80	1661	Mary	of William and Rebecca Thirrell - born Apr. 6.
93	1664	Gideon	of William and Rebecca Turrell - born July 16.

All of these children lived to adult age, and all married. All four are named in the Will of WILLIAM THERRILL (1682). The uniform spacing of these children might indicate that William spent considerable time away from Boston, and in absence of records about him in Boston this fact seems to be confirmed.

He may be the William Terrall, Tailor, whose name appears in New London (Conn.) in 1662, but who is reported to have left shortly thereafter. A John Terrall, seaman, was also in New London at this same time. John's two children, William and Mary, were baptized there on 7 May 1761. John died on 27 Feb 1712, and his wife, Sarah (Willey) Terrall died there on 7 Mar 1712, only a few days after John's death. This record is taken from the "History of New London" by A.M. Caulkins. It further says that the name probably should be spelled "Tyrrell".

That our William was presumably still living in Boston in the year 1669, but absent at the moment, is proven by the fact that on 24 Jan of that year his wife, Rebecca Terill of Boston, and Debora Burrill (her sister), wife of George Burrill, in two separate instruments, deeded to Pilgrim Simpkins, their brother, "for the avoiding of all future differences between them", their rights in the family home which they jointly had inherited from their mother, Isabel Simpkins.

The deed given by George Burrill and his wife, Debora, was signed by both George and Debora; he by his signature, and she by her mark.

However, the deed given by Rebecca Terill was signed by her alone, by her mark, and William's signature was omitted in spite of the fact that the text of the deed reads "that his (Pilgrim Simpkins) sd two sisters with their husbands" etc.

William may have already departed from Boston at this time, planning to establish himself in Virginia or Carolina (where we find him in 1676), maybe leaving Rebecca and at least one child behind in Boston to remain until he had established himself- or maybe she just refused to leave Boston to go with him.

At any rate, Rebecca and one child (Gideon?) were still in Boston in 1671. Sometime during that year she was taken to Court because she was in debt to William Salter. In that year, the Court of Assistants ordered her to pay her debts or go to prison. In October of that year she was placed in prison, where she and her child were to be found on 5 Mar 1671/2 when William Salter petitioned the Court for her release realizing that she could not pay him his due, and that she was in abject poverty.

In July 1672, Rebecca and her child were still in Boston, and still in a dilemma. She had been ordered to go to Virginia, to join her husband, but having no funds with which to pay her passage, she next submitted the following petition to the Court of Assistants of the Colony of the Massachusetts Bay on 7 Sep 1672 (Vol. III:223 of the printed records of that Court - 1928):

In answer to this petition the Court orders the Treasurer Rich Russell to discharge the passage of the petitioner to Virginea; yt utterly vnable to pay any thing hirself & yt it be donn forthwith yt so the Country may be freed from further charge

Edw: Rawson Secret^{y}

From the above it is assumed that Rebecca and her little child did go to Virginia (Carolina) with Mr. (Isaac?) Bolard, and it is assumed she must have joined her husband there, and there died sometime before 8 (5th mo.) 1675, when the deed she gave to her brother, Pilgrim Simpkins was finally recorded (Suffolk Deeds - Vol 9:223-6). Neither the Carolina records nor the Boston records show the date of Rebecca's death.

The History of Weymouth (Vol. 4:655) states that near 1672, William Tirrell removed from Boston to Weymouth, and in 1678/9 took the Oath of Allegiance. It has not been determined where the authors of that History obtained information concerning William's move to Weymouth in 1672. The fact may be correct, but the William who swore allegiance in 1678-9 is without doubt the son, William (11) who had just arrived at age 21; and besides William (1) was at this date busily engaged in Carolina.

This completes all data that has been found about William Therrill in Boston or elsewhere in Massachusetts. Searches of Massachusetts Archives, Church, Judicial, Land and Probate Records reveal nothing further about him or his family.

In 1676 William Therrill is found to be in Perquimans Precinct of Old Albemarle County, (North) Carolina. He may have been there as early as 1669 as mentioned before, but he was definitely there in 1676, when:

"Mr William Therrill of this County (Albemarle) and Mrs. Jeane Godfrey weare married" on 2 Dec 1676 by Mr. (John) Wood, a minister of the Gospel. (North Carolina Historical & Genealogical Register - Vol. 3:200) and (History of Perquimans - Pgs 309, 445).

Mrs Joane Godfrey was widow of Francis Godfrey, an early pioneer in Old Albemarle County. He is said to have graduated (A.B.) from Peterhouse, Cambridge University in 1629. He was probably a native of Suffolk, England. Francis Godfrey was a member of the early Carolina Council under Governor Stevens (circa 1673). He died on 9 Nov 1675. His Will was dated 20 Aug 1675, and eventually probated on 25 Mar 1680. His widow, Joane, was named executrix; John Culpeper (from whom Culpeper's Rebellion was named) was one of the witnesses. Francis Godfrey was survived by two sons, William and John. (Ye County of Albemarle, N.C.) and (History of Perquimans - Pg. 357). Incidentally the inventory and appraisal of his estate is a masterpiece in showing the property owned by a well-to-do planter of that period.

Life was rugged in those early colonial days, and Mrs. Joane Therrill died on 3 Feb 1676/7, in Albemarle, less than one year after her marriage to William. (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 3:365)

In Apr 1677, "John Swinsted of Island of Barbados gave Power of Attorney to H(enry) Babell, Marriner, to recover from William Terre(11) of Roan Oake, otherwise Albemarle River, who married Joan Godfrey, widow, late wife and executrix of Francis Godfrey, her former husband, deceased, proceeds of goods consigned to sd Francis in Oct 1674 & sent in the barque Patience, John Nixon, Commander. Witness: John & Thomas Harvey". (N.C. State Archives - File SS 874.2 - Pg. 154)

Next, "Mr. William Therrill and Mrs. Ann Cooke were married the 12 of July 1677" (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 3:200) and (History of Perquimans - Pg. 309). Mrs. Cooke was widow of Thomas Cooke who died at Albemarle on 25 Mar 1677. (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 3:199)

"Alexander Lillington Esq. & Wm Therill, both of this (Albemarle) County, proved themselves the nearest related to estate of Thomas Cooke of this County, deceased; the sd Alexander being married to the deceased daughter (Elizabeth), and the sd William to the relict - Orders of administration granted to them" (N.C. State Archives - File SS 874.2- Pg. 5) and (History of Perquimans - Pg 37).

Mrs. Ann Therrill died in Albemarle County on 29 Apr 1679. (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 1:137). Thus, within the space of ten years (1669-1679) William had lost three wives, Rebecca Simpkins, widow Joane Godfrey, and widow Ann Cooke.

It was about this time (1678-9) that John Culpeper, George Durant, Wm. Crawford and other prominent citizens of Little River, Albemarle County, Carolina, opposed Thomas Miller, Secretary and Collector of Revenue in Albemarle County. Miller had been appointed by the King's Commissioners, and was also Acting Governor. Miller had tried to suppress trade with Massachusetts, which action arrayed against him the wrath of the Yankee shippers, of whom it can be assumed that our William Therrill was one. Aided by a "party within", namely wealthy George Durant and others, the uprising which followed culminated in what is now known as the "Culpeper Rebellion". Miller was ousted and a popular Parliament or Assembly form of government was set up. William Therrill was one of the 20 members of that House of Commons, the others being Thomas Collen, Speaker; James Blount, Anthony Slocum, John Varnham, Henry Bonner, John Jenkins, Sam'l Pricklove, Caleb Calloway, Alexander Lillington, William Crawford, Vallentine Bird, Willm Jennings, Thomas Jarvis, Enoch Billings, Richard Sanders, Patrick White, William Sears, Francis Jones and

Christopher Nich---?. In some of the accounts of the rebellion the name Therrill is spelled SHERRILL. The rebellion soon subsided and neighbors were soon friends once again. (North Carolina Manual - 1913)

Continuing chronologically, on 9 Apr 1679 "John swinsted ye Elder of Bay of Spights in Island of Barbados, Merchant, gave Power of Attorney to John Harvey and John Hunt, both of Roan Oake in America, Planters, to recover from Wm. Terrill of or neare Roan Oake in America --- etc". (N.C. State Archives - File SS 874.2 - Pg 154).

On 20 Mar 1680 at Court in Albemarle, Mrs. Margaret Culpeper, plaintiff against Wm Therrill, defendant, in an action of debt; and being put to jury found for the plaintiff; settlement 8426 lbs of tobacco and costs. On the same date, Thomas Walker, plaintiff, vrs Wm Therrell, defendant; jury found for plaintiff; settlement 1500 lbs of tobacco and costs. And still a third suit on that same date; Wm Therrell vrs Wm Shute; non-suit for defendant. (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol 1:37). This apparently was a bad day for William, but we do not know whether these suits were on his own account or on account of the affairs of Francis Godfrey whose Will was still to be probated.

On 25 Mar 1680, William petitioned the Grand Council for appointment as Administrator of the estate of Francis Godfrey. On the 29th of the same month it is written that:

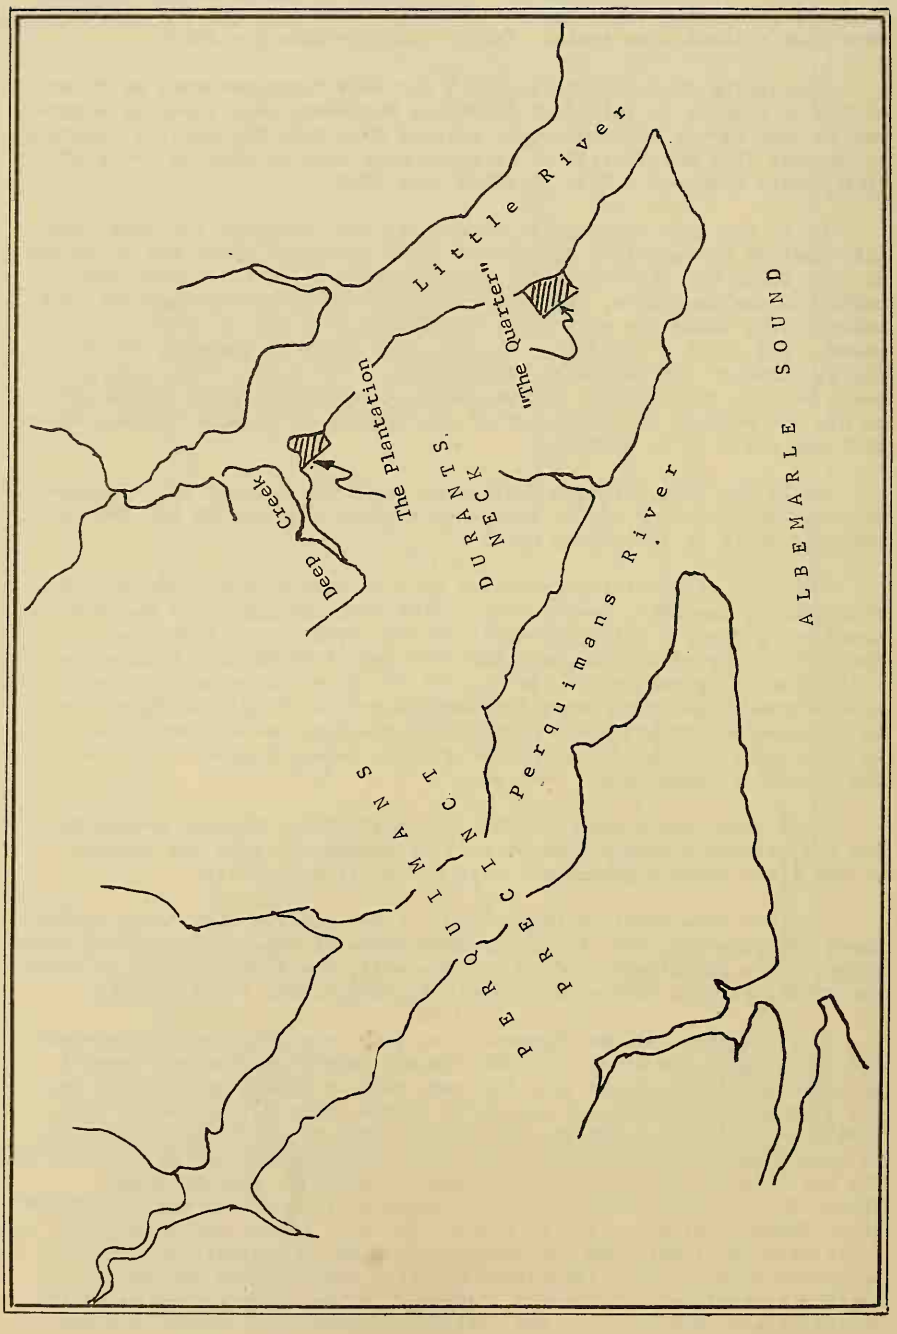
"Whereas it suffitionly appears unto us that Ffrances Godfrey of this County, deceased, having left a Will, and the Executrix therein named being dead, & William Therill of this said County Appearing before us at a Grand Council held the 25th day of March 1680 pretending a Claim as being married to the Rellict of the sd Testator's Execcutrix aforesd & desiring order for Administration on all and Every the sd Deceased Estate which was accordingly granted, wee do therefore In observance of the aforesd order of Court hereby Impower the sd William Therill to Administer ---- stc.".

This order was signed by John Jenkins, Anthony Slocum, Robert Holden and William Crawford, who as will be remembered were all members of the first popular government with our William Therrill.

In this same Court of March 1680, it was ordered that "John Godfrey chose his guardian, and the two grandchildren of Francis Godfrey be committed to ye guardianship of Mr. Wm Therrill; the Administrator to clear the estate as much as can be forthwith". (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 3:138).

William Therrill was witness to at least one Will, and Administrator of at least one other. In 1680 "Thomas Harris desired Mr. Therill and myselfe if God should take him away that we should declare his desire is that one half of all his Reall Estate after sll his debts paid, should be divided betwixt his two Sonnes, that is his Sonne Thomas Came in five years, and his personal Estate to his wife for her disposall for her life and then to his Sonne John. Signed - Timothy Biggs. Proved 26 Mar 1680 Robert Holden. Sworn to in Court by Will. Therill" (N.C. State Archives - File SS 874.2 - Pg 13). And at the session of Court held on 27 Mar 1680 "Mr Joshua Lamb & Mr Wm Therrell of this (Albermarle) County proved themselves greatest creditors of the estate of Abraham Kimberly of this County, deceased, & were granted orders of Administration" (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 1:137) and also (N.C. State Archives - File SS 874.2 - Pg 5).

William Therrill died at Little River, Perquimans Precinct in 1682, making his Will on 3 Jun of that year. The Will was probated on 28 Sep



MAP OF PERQUIMANS PRECINCT SHOWING LOCATION OF WILLIAM THERRELL'S PLANTATIONS

1682. In his Will, William named his two sons, William and Gideon, both of Weymouth in New England; and his two daughters, Rebecca, wife of Joseph Smith of Boston, and Mary, wife of William Manson, presumably of Carolina. For Executors, he named his friends, George Durant and John Hunt.

No inventory or accounting of the estate of William Therrill has been found. At the time George Durant died (sometime in 1693) the estate was still in some dispute. At the session of Court held 6 Nov 1694, "upon a petition exhibited to ye Court by Mr. John Hunt praying yt Mrs. Ann Durant deliv[r] all Books papers and writings belonging to the estate of Mr. W[m] Terrell Diceased Ordered yt the sd Mrs. Ann Durant doe forth-w[th] deliver to Mr. John Hunt surviving executor of Mr. Wm Terrills estate all papers bookes and Writings belonging to Mr. Wm Terrel's estate". (Colonial Records of No. Carolina - Vol 1:400) and also (History of Perquimans - Pg 9).

In an undated deposition, "John Hunt, attor of W. & Gideon Therell" stated that William Therrill "imported into this government (Albemarle) himself, his son Wm., 4 Indians & 2 Negroes etc.". (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 3:139)

By his Will, William indicated that his estate was involved with that of Francis Godfrey, whose estate would first have to be settled before his own affairs could be completely settled. His involvement in the Godfrey estate is undoubtedly the reason that he was the subject of the several Court actions about 1677-80 previously mentioned.

From William Therrill's Will it is learned that he was possessed of two plantations at the time of his death. The larger plantation, in Little River, commonly called THE QUARTER, consisting of 277 Acres (although his Will described it as 300 Acres) was left to his "oldest sonn William Terrill of Weymouth in New England". The second plantation located "on the West side of Little River and bounding on the South Side of Deep Creek" was left to "my other sonn Gideon Terrill of Weymouth aforesaid". The Will makes no mention as to the size of this plantation but does state that it was purchased from Lawrence Arnold. Arnold was undoubtedly the original grantee of this land.

"Sonn" William sold his plantation in 1716; "William Therell Sen'r of the town of Albington in New England, Province of Mass Bay, for ₤ 65 paid by Anthony Hatch of Albemarle, Planter, (sold) a tract of land in Perquimans, adj Capt Richard Sanderson - 277 A - on 31 Mar 1716. Test. John Gray, Samuel Therall, Will Brothers". (Deed Book B-4).

But this sale was not the end of it. "At a General Court held at the Court house at Queen Anne's Creek 31 Jul 1716 --- To the Xtian people to whom these presents shall come William Theril of the Province of New England in America, Houseright, sends Greeting -----
Whereas I the sd Theril hath Comencd one Action of Ejectment against Jno Clark of Perquimons in North Carolina afsd for my recovering the Possession of One Plantation & Tract of Land thereunto belonging, whereon the sd John Clark doth now live, and whereas my affairs requires my Attendance in New England afsd That I cannot follow the afsd Prosecutions as I ought or should do, Now know ye that I the sd William Theril ---- Constitute my trusty & well beloved friend Anthony Hatch Esqr of Pasquotank in North Carolina afsd my --- Attorney --- to proceed --- to bring to a final Determination --- etc.
In witness whereof I have ---- (signed) this 19th day of August (prob. meant July): Anno Dom 1716 William Therel Augst the first 1716"

John Clark was either a squatter or a tenant who refused to be evicted. Eventually the sale must have been finalized and Anthony Hatch received a clear title, for in 1765, John Hatch, heir to Anthony Hatch sold this plantation to Capt. Richard Sanderson, an extensive landowner. (Deed Book C-219); the property continuing in the Sanderson family until about 1820 when all the Sanderson holdings were divided and sold.

No positive identification has been made of the land left to "sonn" Gideon. It is possible that it is the 95 Acres "that Thomas Cartright Senr hath bargained and sold ---- unto Samuel Right lying upon the South Side of Deep Creek in Little River. Bounding upon William Godfrey's Land on the upper side, and upon a plantation possessed by Mr Hunt belonging to one Mr Terrell --" (History of Perquimans - Pg.56) and (Deed Book A-230). This deed does not make clear whether the plantation sold belonged to "one Mr Terrell" or whether the plantation possessed by Mr. Hunt belonged to Mr. Terrell. Since John Hunt was "attor for W & Gideon Therell" it is probably the latter.

However, about 1695, a petition was presented to the Governor & Council by Thomas Cartright "humbly presenting sheweth that about two years since your petitioner was at ye charg of surveying of a parcel of land upon Little River neer the mouth of Deep Creek, but Capt. Jno Hunt has obstructed yor petitioners proceedings upon pretense of being one Therrill's attorney in New England, and lays claime to the greatest part of said land. Your petitioner humbly prayeth that the Honorable Court will please to order ye said Capt Jno Hunt forwith to Survey his part of said land yt he layes claime to according to the bounds of his bill of sale --- " (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 3:250).

Mr. Raymond Winslow, Jr. has advised ---- "it is apparent that William sold his brother Gideon's land, 95 acres south of Deep Creek on 25 Apr 1704". Further details concerning the sale were not supplied.

The town of Little River, where William Therrill lived and died, was the first town settled in Perquimans Precinct of Albemarle County. It occupied the lower end of Durants Neck on Little River. Here were held many General Courts. The town was designated as one of the four "Ports of Entry" for the Province of North Carolina, where "ships shall laid and unlaid". Within this town dwelt all the early notables of the Colony, such as Wm Glover, Richard Sanderson, John Hecklefield and Thomas Jacocks. These people were all one generation later than our William Therrill. Near or in Little River lived the redoubtable George Durant. Court was held in his house in the years 1677-79, including the time of the trial of Thomas Miller, during the Culpeper Rebellion. (History of Perquimans - Pgs 2, 48).

Unfortunately the earliest records of the town of Little Creek and the County around were burned during the Culpeper Rebellion, except for a few papers which escaped this fate by being lodged with the Secretary of State. (History of Perquimans - Pg 7)

The town of Little River was the site of the earliest Quaker Meeting in Perquimans Precinct. (History of Perquimans - Pg 29). We have no knowledge that our founder, William Therrill, may have been a member of the sect. The fact that he arrived in Boston about the time of Quaker persecutions in England, and left Boston about the time of Quaker persecutions there; the fact that his attorney, John Hunt, was of this sect, all suggests that he could have been a member of that faith. The fact that he was married in Albemarle by a minister of the Gospel, and that he took part in the Rebellion against Thomas Miller would suggest otherwise. Certainly his two sons were not Quakers; they both were very active in Congregational Churches of Weymouth and Abington, Mass. Carolina gave every man the freedom of religious belief under its Great Charter given to the Earl of Clarendon on 24 Mar 1663. Tolerance and indulgence to all Christians in the free exercise of their opinions were made into one clause of the Constitution, and no man could be excluded from the Assembly on account of his faith. (History of Perquimans - Pg 34). This Constitution also provided that no man could serve on the jury unless he held a freehold of land in the County; a Grand Juryman had to possess 300 Acres; a Petty Juryman, 200 Acres; a Constable, 100 Acres; and no man was called a freeman who did not acknowledge God.

In his Will, William Therrill called himself a "Merchant- Taylor". Undoubtedly he was engaged in trading. As stated before, the uniform spacing of his children suggests that he spent a great amount of time away from home. "Ships from Boston to Albemarle Sound brought articles needed by the Planters. These ships then took cattle and lumber from Albemarle to the West Indies, which they traded for sugar, molasses and rum. On the return trip, the ships again stopped at Albemarle, trading their West Indies cargo for tobacco, which they took to New England and eventually to Old England. This was all accomplished at a good profit in supreme defiance of the Statues, which enriched the Yankee merchant faster than the Lord Proprietors of the Colony" (Old Virginia and Her Neighbors - Pg 270)

William Therrill's Will was sealed in wax with the impression of a swan in the wax. No significance of the swan impression has been found. Maybe the seal belonged to the family of Maj. Samuel Swann, a resident of the area. It is not a recognizable device of any known Tyrrell Arms.

A copy of the Will of William Therrill follows:

THE LAST WILL & TESTAMENT OF WILLIAM THERRILL

William Tirrill was a Carpenter or Houseright. He accompanied his father to Carolina ca. 1670, when his father first went there; his father claiming to have imported William as part of his household. How long William may have stayed in Carolina is not known. He returned to New England and settled in Weymouth near 1672, or a little later. He must have returned to Carolina with his son Samuel, in 1716, sufficiently long to have sold the plantation, known as THE QUARTER, which his father left to him by his Will. He is probably the William Tirrell who moved from Boston to Weymouth in 1672, and definitely the William Tirrell who became a Freeman there in 1678/9. He purchased the whole of the Pratt grant of land in Abington from the sons of John Shaw on 3 Mar 1705, and settled on this land soon afterwards. He owned a Saw Mill there which he deeded to his sons William, Gideon and Samuel in separate deeds. He was one of the founding members of the First Congregational Church in Abington. In his Will, dated 27 Apr 1727, he signs as "William Tirrill", but is variously called "William Torrel" and William Terrell" in the body of the Will. His wife and children are referred to as "Abigel terell", "Abigail terrel", "Abigail Torrel"; "William Terrell", "William torell", "Gideon Torrel", "Gidien Terrell", "Thomas terrel", "Thomas terrell", "Thomas torell" and "Samuel terell".

In Old Abington, his home was near the present Whitman-East Bridgewater town line.

MARY THIRRELL (1B)

younger daughter of William (1) and Rebecca (Simpkins) Therrill.
born: 6 Apr 1661 - Boston, New England.
died:

born:
died:
Children: (1)
i. William MANSON b. 30 Mar 1681 - Albemarle, Caro.
Children: (2)
ii. Mary MANSELL b. 31 Aug 1692 do
iii. Elizabeth b. 12 May 1694 do

Whether Mary's first husband was from Albemarle or from New England is not known. The name Manson is common in both localities. The fact that his name was William Manson is shown her father's Will. Mary may have accompanied her father to Albemarle but the record does not so show. More likely she joined him there later. At the death of her father, and by his Will, she was granted use of the larger plantation at the pleasure of her brother, William, to whom the plantation was left.

William Manson may have been the William Mann who owned " an island known by the name of William Mans old Plan(tation)" on the S. W. side of Little River, part of 120 Acres "due said Man for Trans three persons" which he received by Patent on 1 May 1694 and which he sold on 20 Feb 1724 to John Bartlett (Deed Book B-246). William Mann was still living on Deep Creek when John and Ann Barclift (Bartlett) sold 200 Acres adjacent to William Mann's land. In 1746 his grandson, John Man of Pasq. County sold 50 Acres of the original 1694 grant to Thomas Weeks, so it would appear that William Mann had died by that date. (Deed Book E-62).

The above is very confusing, because the records show that "William Therrell's dau. Mary married William Mara". No further reference to the name of Mara is found. It may be that the entry of 5 Feb 1686 was a late entry, and the names Manson, Mara, and Mansell are one and the same.

GIDEON THURRELL (12)

dau. of John and Alice (Phillips) Shaw.
born: 7 Apr 1668 - Weymouth, Mass.

B. Miriam	b. 29 Sep 1696	do
died: a youth	- 19 Jul 1715	do
3. John	b. 22 Aug 1700	do
C. Hannah	b. 1705	do

There has been some controversy over the family name of Gideon's wife. Some historians have called her Hannah Kingman, daughter of Thomas and Rebecca ( ) Kingman. Others call her Hannah Shaw, daughter of John and Alice (Phillips) Shaw. A study of the Probate Records shows that the latter is correct. Hannah was alive at time of division of the estate of John Shaw, her father, and is mentioned in his Will.

Gideon Tirrell was an extensive land owner in Weymouth, Mass. The earliest deed found is dated 1686. By this deed Gideon Tirrill purchased six acres of land from Matthew and Sarah Pratt; the land being adjacent to land already owned by Gideon. In 1698 he purchased seven acres from Capt. John Holbrook, and in 1702 six additional acres from Benj. Ludden. In due time he owned 150 acres in Weymouth.

In 1693, Weymouth granted him liberty of the river in the Town's Commons in a place called the Blades Mill, to set up a fulling mill, "and to have one acre of land".

It has usually been claimed that Gideon Tirrell's home was located on Front Street, Weymouth, near the point where the super-highway No. 128 crosses under Front Street. It now appears that this was not the location of his home. At the death of Gideon, his two sons having purchased the rights of their sisters in their father's inheritance, divided the estate between themselves, Gideon taking mainly the grant lying near his own home place, and John taking that "which is the home place of said Gideon, deceased" with the adjacent property. This is without question the mill property at the junction of Washington Street and Middle Street near the present Weymouth Town House.

Gideon was a member of the Church of Christ under the pastoral care of Rev. Mr. Paine. When a new church was formed in the South precinct of Weymouth, his name was at the head of the list of lay communicants. He was the first moderator of the South precinct, as well as one of the tax assessors.

At time of his death, he was representative to the General Court of Massachusetts, where he served in the years 1726, 1729 and 1730

Like his brother William, he was a carpenter by trade. Maybe the two boys had been apprenticed together. He also carried the title of Sergeant.

He left no Will. His son, Gideon, was appointed Administrator of his estate on 24 Nov 1730.

The Weymouth, Mass. Vital Records (R 2-47) state that a Gideon Tirrell married Abigail Tirrel on 7 May 1761. No relationship or other identification of either party is given. A study of the records of the few Abigail Tirrells available at this time indicates that Gideon (122) a widower of 7 years and age 68, and Abigail (111-C), single and age 45, Gideon's first cousin once removed, are the only likely parties of this marriage. No widow Abigail Tirrell has been found who might have fitted the description. A widow Abigail Tirrell marr: (2nd) 17 Jan 1767 at Weymouth, Mass. to James Deane of Easton, Mass.

Gideon Tirrell, by his Will dated 27 Jun 1764; proved 4 Apr 1776; leaves to his wife (name not shown); and to his sons Jacob, Ebenezer, and Benjamin; to his daughter, Hannah Ripley; and to the children of his deceased son Gideon.

He was "cast away and froze to death on what is called Hangman's Rock in Braintree (now Quincy) Bay. He sailed from Boston with Capt. Alexander Nash of Weymouth & his negro slave on a pleasant morning in Ap^{l} 1752. The day before it was warm enough to go comfortably with only a waiscoat on & the wind breezed up & blew them on the island where there was only a gunhouse on it & not any fire & it grew cold so fast that Job Tirrell got on shore and then went back for Capt. Nash, but he got so wet and cold that he soon became helpless & froze to death on board the coaster. Capt. Nash got on shore & had it not been for his negro he would have froze to death too, but the negro was froze as well as the Capt., but he got so chilled that he began to grow sleepy & the negro would take him by the heels & draw him about and that would awake him up & would threaten him severely if he did not let him alone but the negro rubbed him &c. The next morning they were taken off & the Capt. freed him afterwards for saving his life" (Excerpt from Cyrus Nash's Diaries - G IV:15, 16)

In the above account Cyrus Nash indicates that this event happened to Job Tirrell, son of Samuel and Mary, but as Job died in Service this was probably an error, and besides the Weymouth Vital Records state that it was Abel who was lost.

In 1794, he was judged to be "non-compos" and guardians were appointed. It is known that he had other children. Some of these may have gone to Maine or Vermont. In 1790 while living in Deerfield, N.H. his household consisted of 2 males and 3 females, which may indicate that he had one daughter still living at home. She may be the Tirrill daughter who is reported to have married Hiram Eastman, son of Jeremiah and Sarah (Quimby) Eastman.

Without substantiating proof, it is the opinion of this author that Rogers Tirrell, an early resident of Poland, Maine, was the son of Thomas and Lucy Tirrell. That the sons of Ezra Warren also went to this same area in Maine is indicative that Rogers accompanied them. The descendants of Rogers Tirrell will be found in a separate chapter.

After the death of her husband, Ezra Warren, Lucy went to live with her son, Thomas Tirrell, at the westward (Cummington) where she is said to have died of breast cancer.

Ezra Tirrell is described as a powerful and athletic man. "At one time a wrestling match came off between the towns of Weymouth and Hingham, Mass. The Hingham boys threw the Weymouth boys all out and a move was made to go to Weymouth after Ezra Tirrell. We engaged a carriage and off we went and found him asleep in bed. He got up and put on his ruffled shirt, dressed himself and off he went to Hingham; went into the ring and felt the man over. He stepped around a few seconds; then gave a twitch and such was the force of it that he threw the man clear out of the ring, and turning around to look for him exclaimed 'where is he' " (The Tirrell Family)

He was Deacon of the First Congregational Church in Abington, Mass.

"Dea. Isaac Tirrell & wife left this town (Abington) for Shelbourn to visit their children in that place (3 daughters). They arrived Wednesday evening - on Friday y^{e} 12 he was taken with a lung fever & died y^{e} 18 instant & was buried in that place on Saturday y^{e} 20 - the same day his widow, Mrs. Tirrell, was attacked with the same fever, The news of the Dea's death reached this place on Monday y^{e} 22, requesting Oaks Porter Brown or some one of the family to come to that place to accompany her home. She appeared anxious to return but on Tuesday, Oaks Porter Brown took the stage for Shelbourn when he found his grandmother sick & not able to return. She was taken after the letters were written. Oaks P. Brown returned to this place on the 27th instant. On the 28, Isaac Tirrell & Clarissa, his sister, left this place to visit their sick parent. She afterwards recovered & Returned to the place of her Nativity on Nov^{r} y^{e} 8. The remains of the late Dea. Isaac Tirrell arrived in town from Shelbourn in the evening of the 7 of Feb 1824 & on the afternoon of the day following, Funeral Ceremonies were performed at his late residence" (from Diary of Cyrus Nash - G V:9-11)

Abel Tirrill, with brothers Jonah and Nathan were in New Chester, N.H. as early as 1787. The 1790 Census shows Abel in Bridgewater, N.H. with a family consisting of 1 male over age 16; 2 males under age 16; and 4 females. This indicates that there were probably 3 daughters besides the 2 boys named. His widow, Molly, was appointed administratrix of his estate. Court files show no distribution or accounting, stating only that he left a widow and several children.
She may be the Polly Tirrill who married 1 Jun 1817 - Bridgewater, N.H. to Francis Brown.

See Isaac Tirrill.
Both the Tirrell Family (1851) and the History of Weymouth state that Elishaba Tirrell married her cousin, Isaac Tirrill of Boston. However, Boston Marriage Records show that Isaac Tirrill married Elizabeth Tirrell. The Tirrell Family mistakenly assigns the birth date of Elizabeth to Elishaba, whereas the Vital Records assign a birth date to each. It is probable that Isaac Tirrill married twice, first to Elishaba and second to Elizabeth, sisters.

As stated under Elishaba Tirrell (122-1G), both the Tirrell Family by Benjamin Tirrell, and the History of Weymouth state that Isaac Tirrill married his cousin Elishaba Tirrell. The Boston Vital Records and the Probate Records there indicate that Isaac married Elizabeth Tirrell, who as his widow was administrator of his estate, making distribution to herself and her children, Elizabeth V. Reed, Cynthia and Elery S. Tirrill.

The 1790 Census of Massachusetts shows Isaac and Isaac Jr. living in Abington, Mass. and that Joseph Stetson (whose wife, Miriam, was a sister of Issac Jr.) living in Hanover, Mass.

However, the 1790 Census of Maine shows Isaac Terral, Isaac Terral Jr. and Joseph Stetson living Waldoboro Town at the time the census was taken there. It is recognized that the Census Recorder interchanged the names of the towns of Waldoboro, Nobleboro and Bristol and the record should have shown Bristol as the place of residence of Isaac etc. instead of Waldoboro. While the individual makeup of each family differs slightly at the two locations, it is significant that the sum total of the three families at both locations is exactly the same except for one male member. Since it is known that Joseph Stetson did go to this part of Maine, and deeds are found between him and Isaac Tirrol, and since Joseph Stetson died in Northport, Me., and since Alexander Tirrill and Joseph S. Ferrill (Terrill) are also found in Bristol and Northport, it is sufficient to assume these are the same families.

James Tirrell, shoemaker by trade, founded the first shoe shop in Weymouth, Mass. Earlier this building was designated an historic landmark of Massachusetts, but with the construction of Super-highway No. 128, the old building was destroyed. It was located where this Route 128 crossed under Front Street in Weymouth. As noted above, the widow of James Tirrell married Cornet Ezra Reed. To this marriage she brought her seven children, which together with his seven children must have made a lively household. The boys of both families entered the shoe business, and this combined family can truly be called the founders of the shoe business in Weymouth and the surrounding area. For four generations the names of Tirrell and Reed could be found in the shoe business of the area.

He was called John F Terrill in the History of Iona County, Mich., and with two others, is credited with the founding of the present town of Portland, Mich.

He had been a farmer in the Locke Neighborhood of Bristol, N.H. The family moved to Michigan in the summer of 1837.

Her father, Jonathan Ingalls, was the only soldier of the Revolutionary War to be buried in Sebewa Township, Michigan, and he was buried on the old Terrill farm. The first Methodist Church in Sebewa Township was organized in his home in 1839.

In the May 25 1875 issue of the Portland (Mich) "Observer" the following appeared: "We are informed that the mother of M(artin) V(an Buren) Terrill in this township, a lady of nearly eighty years old, who has had to "gum it' several years, is being blessed with a new set of natural teeth, having already cut six within a short time".

He is said to have left home in 1835 (at age 21) to seek his fortune in Boston. His father gave him a $10.00 gold piece as a parting gesture. Jesse walked to Boston, earning his lodging and food by sawing wood enroute. Arriving in Boston, he sought employment in a wood yard. Within a few years he owned one of the most prosperous coal and wood businesses in Boston and had acquired valuable waterfront properties. He left a vast estate which he entailed for 65 years.

Source R 1-14 says he had several children, without naming any. Sylvester A.C.Tirrell is probably a son. The 1850 Census of Weymouth shows that an Amanda A. A. Charlton, age 26, and her husband, Robert, age 32 were members of his household. She may have been a daughter. Also, the Census lists a Washington R. Tirrell, age 13, born in Mich. Washington may have been a son of William, son of Joseph, whose family also occupied the same dwelling. No positive identification of these has been made.

Wilson Tirrell was one of the earliest manufacturers of shoes in Weymouth; the site of his "shop" formerly being marked as an Historical Site of Massachusetts, has now been wiped out by the construction of Super-highway No. 128.

The two daughters of Wilson Tirrell who were murdered were both killed by poison by one George Canning Hersey, brother of the husband of Susan Eliza, the oldest daughter. The case was one of the most sensational in Massachusetts.

He was called "Squire" Tyrrell. He first went from Hancock, N.H, to Lowell, Mass. in 1830 to work in the mills there. In 1837 he went to Jo Daviess County, Ill. and built himself a cabin and settled a claim there. At the time of his death he was the oldest resident in Stockton Township. He was active in Masonry; a charter member of Plum River Lodge #554 A.F. & A.M. He volunteered for service in the Civil War but was rejected because of age. He then devoted his time to raising volunteers for the Union cause. In 1839 he was made Justice of Peace and continued for 40 years. and in 1846 was elected Town Treasurer in which post he also served for 40 years. In 1856 he was chosen to the Board of Supervisors of Wards Grove and continued for 19 years.

As a youth he attended the same school house in New Hampshire as President Franklin Pierce. He went to Grand Detour, Ill. in 1837 and was employed in the manufacture of lumber products, and he also operated a ferry. He was acquainted with John Deere, and saw him make the first three steel plows which was the start of his great industry. He moved to Moline, Ill. in 1850. In 1863 he enlisted in the Civil War and served for 150 days with Co. H, 132rd Illinois Infantry. He was an ardent Abolitionist, Temperance Man and a member of the Congregational Church.

The death record of his son Benjamin Butler Tyrrell indicated that Nathan Cram Tyrrell was born in Groton, Mass., which is doubtful.

This marriage was performed by the bride's father, then a Justice of the Peace. An early directory of the County calls her Louisa J. Partridge, but she is called Eliza J. Tyrrell in her husband's Will. Arthur went from New Hampshire to Illinois in 1835, first stopping at Kane Cty., Ill., but later moved on to Jo Daviess Cty. where he arriv- in Oct 1836. He was one of a group who went from Illinois to California during the 1849 Gold Rush, to be gone 4 years. As he started late in the season he lost most of his supplies enroute. He returned to Ill. in 1853, and named his next son Franklin Sutter after the finder of Gold.

He came to Michigan with his father before 1837. He was a member of the Methodist Church. He was elected Treasurer of Sebewa Township, Mich. at the first town meeting held on 6 Apr 1846, and also Commissioner of Highways and Overseer of Poor. In 1851, after he had left Sebewa Township, there was some question over his accounts, or of the monies retained by him, which the Supervisor was ordered to recover.
His second wife owned a farm in Carmel Township, Eaton County, Mich., and after his marriage with Mrs. Featherstone, he moved his family to her farm. With hos third marriage, in 1851, he purchased the farm owned by Maria's parents in Charlotte, Mich., and moved to that farm, which is now known as the Tirrell farm.

MARY E. TIRRILL (113-337-D)
dau. of Timothy (113-337) and Mary H. (Drew) Tirrill.
born: 9 May 1849 - Stewartstown, N.H.
died:
marr: 14 Nov 1881 - Lodi, Wisc.
to JABEZ TAPPAN SHUMWAY as his third wife.
son of Jeremiah D. and Lucretia (Allen) Shumway.
born: 17 Apr 1829 - Cobleskill, N.Y.
died: 23 Feb 1911 - Lodi, Wisc.
marr: (1st) 7 Mar 1853 - West Point, Wisc. to Flora Ann Drew Tirrill (113-327-A) sister of Mary Tirrill.
marr: (2nd) 4 Dec 1878 - Lodi, Wisc. to Philander Mosher.
At time of birth of Mary Tirrill, her father was at West Point, Wisc. perhaps seeking a farmsite. In 1860 she is listed as a member of her father's household at age 11, at West Point, Wisc.

LUCY TIRRILL (113-327-E)
dau. of Timothy (113-327) and Mary H. (Drew) Tirrill.
born: 8 Jul 1851 - Stewartstown, N.H.
died: young.
It is understood that at the time of her birth, her father was living in Praire du Sac, Wisc., perhaps seeking a farmsite there. She is not listed as a member of her father's household in the 1860 Census of West Point, Wisc. so it must be assumed she had died before this date.

Source R 1-14 says he was age 50 at death, which does not agree with vital records, probably an error.
The 1850 Census of Weymouth shows that he was living in the same dwelling as his father, and that there was a Washington R. Tirrell as parte of the household of Joseph and Lucy. Washington was age 13 (born in 1837). He probably is a son of William and Rebecca.

* The marriage record at Paw Paw, Mich. does not clearly state the date of marriage. The minister who performed the ceremony recorded two marriages in the Marriage Register at the same time, carefully stating the date of the second ceremony, but omitting the date of the first. Then as an afterthought he added "Dated Paw Paw July 2d 1867". The ages of James and Cynthia verify the year as 1867.

George Bab Gustin was descended from Augustine Le Ressignol Jean, of St. Owens, isle of Jersey, whose son Augustine Jean came to America. This Augustine Jeane served in the Revolution, and the Muster Masters had so much difficulty with his name that they abbreviated it to John (Jean) Gustin, which name has survived.

Nathaniel (6) and Archer Gray (7) are either twins or the same child. The author believes the latter, since no birth record shows for Archer Gray, and no death record for Nathaniel, yet the death record of Archer Gray places him as born on the same day as the birth record shows for Nathaniel.

The birth record of Harry Wilson (4) calls him Carrie Wilson.

Dr. Norton Quincy Tirrell was a beloved Physician of Weymouth, Mass. He was appointed by Representative Daniel Webster to study at the Washington (D.C.) University. He then studied medicine with Dr. Prescott of Pittsfield, N.H. after which he began the practice of medicine in Sharon, Mass. where he was the only physician for many years. In 1852 he returned to his native Weymouth, and succeeded Dr. Gibbins there. He lived on King Oak Hill, a high hill overlooking the older part of Weymouth.

Because he thought the name TIRRILL, written mostly with all vertical strokes, lacked a certain character, he adopted the TIRRELL spelling not knowing that this spelling was used by other branches of the family. (Even so, many of our signatures still look as if the middle "r"s were an "n" or a "u". - No wonder there are so many spellings of the name)

 Braintree Vital Records show a child, Sarah A. Tirrell, born on 6 Dec 1864 as well as Sarah Ann Augusta Tirrell born on 6 Dec 1865. The first is reported to have died 2 Sep 1865 and the second on 26 Oct 1865. Therefore it is believed the records show a confustion, probably from a late recording, and that both records belong to only one child.

 Also not explainable are the records of the female child who died in Braintree on 25 Nov 1872 and the birth of Nellie on 30 Nov 1872 in Randolph, Mass. Again this may be result of a late recording, and both records may pertain to Nellie.

Although Augustus L. Tirrell died in Quincy, Mass. as late as 1923 no satisfactory record has been found to establish his origin. While his death record and the birth records of his children show him as a native of Weymouth (So. Weymouth), Mass. the Vital Records of that town do not list him. His death record identifies his father only as "J" Tirrell, and it is upon this identification that his parents are assumed.

Wilson Tirrell, third of his name, like his father and grandfather was very active in the shoe business in the Weymouth and Brockton, Mass. district. At one time, he and his twin brother, Warren, were engaged in the firm of W. & W. Tirrell. Their manufacturing plant, called the "Twin Factory" was the first to use steam power for driving the shoe machinery. He next moved to Brockton, Mass. in 1892, which soon became one of the largest centers for manufacturing high grade men's shoes. Under Union activity the area has declined and most of the shoe factories have either closed or moved elsewhere. During the last 27 years of his active business life, he was General Superintendent of one of the largest shoe manufacturers in the district, a company which became defunct soon after his retirement. He and his twin were so similar in appearance, and being engaged in the same type of work, but with diferent employers, sales personnel who met them individually on the street were constantly confused, a condition which the twins aided by assuming the other's position, often to the salesman's later chagrin. He was a member of Paul Revere Lodge, A.F. & A. M. of Brockton, Mass. for over 50 years.

Carrie A. Tower was a graduate of Bridgewater (Mass.) Normal School.

After graduating from Dartmouth College in 1954, Albert Keith enlisted in the U.S. Army for three years service, and was assigned to Army Security. He attended the Army Language School in Monterey, Cal. and received training as a Chinese (Mandarin) Language Specialist. After completing his service he next attended the University of Washington for graduate studies in Far Eastern Affairs and completed all requirements for a Master's degree except the Thesis. After two years work on the Thesis, the faculty of U. of W. declared the subject of the Thesis (previously acceptable) unacceptable because source material was uncertain because of political conditions. Instead he was awarded a second Bachelor's degree from the U. of W.

Mrs. Tirrell also graduated from the University of Washington in 1959 - Magna Cum Laude, and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa honor society. She specialized in Journalism and currently (1968) is managing editor of a suburban newspaper in southern N.J.

Live (1968) in Cherry Hill, N.J.

Rogers Tirrell, the earliest known member of this branch of our Tirrell family, is not to be confused or identified as Roger Terrell (Tyrrell) the founder of the Connecticut branch of that family. They are two distinct individuals and lived in two distinct parts of New England, and over one century apart in time.

Rogers Tirrell's name first appears in the early Vital Records of Poland, Maine as Tivil, with the names of his first four children, and later as Tiril with the next two children. The published record lists the name of Diman Perry and his family directly ahead of that of Rogers Tivel. It is possible that originally they all comprised one household in the pioneer country. Eventually their land holdings were adjacent to each other. Diman Perry's name is found in the 1790 Census of Maine, as living in Bakerstown.

Searching for the source of the name Rogers it is found that Thomas Tirrell (114) married Elizabeth Rogers. His son, Thomas (114-2) married Lucy Taylor, who as a widow remarried in Abington, Mass. in 1776, to Ezra Warren of Bridgewater, Mass. Many of the children of this Ezra Warren, removed to Turner and Minot, Maine, where in due time both Rogers Tirrell and Diman Perry are found to be living. This might indicate that perhaps Rogers Tirrell is the son of Thomas (114-2) and Lucy (Taylor) Tirrell. No factual records have been found to support this theory, but until such records are found it seems a reasonable assumption. And until such records are found, it is felt that the family history and genealogy of this branch of the family should be made the subject of a separate chapter.

Also no further records of the children of Rogers and Penelope Tirrell, other than the two sons, Charles and Salmon, have been found. The other children undoubtedly left some family; there are a few scattered Tirrells in the Sanford, Me. and Rochester, N.H. area who may belong to this family, but to date the ancestry of these few has not been learned.

MASSACHUSETTS REVOLUTIONARY WAR RECORDS

The Revolutionar War Records of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts were published in 1896 in a 17 volume work entitled: SOLDIERS AND SAILORS OF THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR.

Volumes 15 and 16 contain the war records of those of our family who saw service, as well as a few records of others of our name who probably were descendants of Roger Terrill, the early settler of Milford, Conn.

These records show 23 variants in the spelling of our name. As originally published the records are listed by family name according to the spelling used by the clerk who recorded the event. A study of these records readily shows that one individual may have had several service records, and is listed under more than one spelling

In the records which follow, the records of each individual have been grouped together, insofar as they can be readily identified, regardless of the spelling of our family name. The basic guide has been the chronological order of the individual's service, as well as continuing service with the same regiment or officers. Insofar as possible, each individual has been identified by the genealogical number used in the text. No pretense is made that this listing is correct; it is possible that the service ascribed to one individual may actually have been performed by another of the same given name. The listing is complete; no attempt has been made to exclude names which possibly did not belong to our own family.

Reference to the Volume and Page from which the records were copied from the SOLDIERS AND SAILORS OF THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR are given in every instant.

REFERENCES and SOURCES

The genealogical record of each individual included herein is concluded with a coded reference to "R" and "C" sources.

Basically "R" sources cover material already in print, or which can be readily obtained from public records.

Basically "C" sources cover material obtained by correspondence with others, such as individuals, volunteer and paid researchers, Town, City and County Clerks, Probate offices, Historical Societies, Cemeteries, or any other potential source of data applicable to our family. As previously stated over 1500 letters were mailed to these groups. Not all letters were fruitful. Some were returned for insufficient address; some recipients ignored the request for information about their family; some replies came from families of our name but not related to our first William Therrill. Because of the varied nature of all this correspondence, including the fact that some of the letters may be classed as "confidential", no indication will be made herein to show the true origin of the "C" references. It must be considered to be the Author's personal file, the references being shown only to indicate that data has been obtained from sources considered to be reliable. However, the Author will answer specific questions directed to him by any individual, if the question is cosidered to fall within his province to so answer.
